

Handy Emergency Apps

Your smartphone is most likely be the first thing you go to in case any emergency. Smartphones are fast becoming a critical source of information and updates during mass emergencies and catastrophes. Below are links to three apps that can be downloaded and installed on iPhones and Androids. Check them out.

- FEMA – This app has information to prepare for different types of disasters. It also has an interactive checklist for emergency kits, a section to plan emergency meeting locations and information on how to stay safe and recover after a disaster.
- Red Cross First Aid – Lifesaving information on how to handle the most common first aid situations with videos, interactive quizzes and simple step-by-step advice on administering first aid.
- NOAA Now – The latest information and quick updates on severe weather in your area such as hurricanes and tornadoes.

